Farm Bureau Notes

The Crittenden County Wool Pool of 1920 was delivered last Saturday to a local dealer. The prices obtained were 3-4c above the standing market quotations illustrating well the advantages of farmers co-operating in pooling. Eighteen cents was paid for the clean wool. The pool was the best quality of wool to be handled this spring. The wool in the newspapers of the past few days has been the same as the wool in the newspapers of the past few days. Co-operative marketing is the cure for a great many of the present farmers' ills. It is simply the "United we stick, divided we break."

Meeting at Brown School June 20 and 21. The regular meeting of the Fourth Friday at Crittenden will fall on June 24.

Marion Limestone Shed

The efforts of the Farm Bureau in Marion will be established in the near future. This is an achievement for which great credit must be given to the Farm Bureau. Crittenden county has erected a limestone shed of the kind for a long time. Many farmers come to town with a load of limestone and often times go back with an empty wagon. Now they will be able to take back a little limestone each time and spread it when the time and conditions are favorable. Crittenden County needs limestone. Everyone knows that, but in the past it has been difficult to obtain.

The Marion Limestone Co. will erect and maintain this limestone shed and will handle it at a nominal profit over the last price paid for the freight. Mr. Nunn of the Limestone Co. states that they hope to have the shed in operation within the next few days.

Further the Farm Bureau started this shed and the sale of limestone is open to all. You will receive one of the benefits of the organization. You are all riding on the Farm Bureau train and the only question is whether you are paying your fare or becoming a ride.

Junior Week at Lexington

June 20-21 is set aside at the Kentucky College of Agriculture as Junior Week. Members of the Junior Agricultural Clubs of the state are allowed to go to Lexington. Due to the efforts of the County Agent he is authorized to award one free trip to Junior week for this county. The Oliver Chilled Food Company of South Bend Ind. has donated sufficient money to cover the cost of the railroad fare to Lexington for this event. All Junior Club members have been sent parties regarding this trip. The method of award will be a drawing from a list of all members who have returned their cards saying they wish to go. The committee who will do this is made up of Supt. Paris, J. A. Ellis and the County Agent, the time being is short this is deemed one of the best means possible.

Mr. J. A. Hill, president of the Crittenden County Farm Bureau and County Agent Spencer were at Lexington in Christian county Thursday and Friday inspecting the co-operative cream shipping organization there. Fendricks has a farmers' cream association that enables them to sell their cream regularly above market quotations. The farmers co-operate, pool their cream, trust absolutely the manager and gain an increased price for their cream. Crittenden county needs an organization of this kind and if there is sufficient interest and backing one will be established.

GOOD ROADS

A contract was let this week to complete the pike from Princeton to Ligon. This line also the Chamber of Commerce of Hopkinsville has appropriated $10,000 to finish the pike from Hopkinsville to Princeton and Crittenden county people are getting busy to get enough money to finish that pike. Quite a number of miles have recently been contracted in Hopkinsville. We are glad to see the good work go on. When our people get to touch with good roads they will be more willing to give the right of way to have good roads here.

THE ROAD QUESTION

The Fiscal Court at a special session met on the fourth to complete the right of way for the Federal Highway.

The following is the action of the Court: "On motion of Esq. Trull, seconded by Esq. Riley the matter of right of way for Federal Highway Project No. 8, being under consideration and the price submitted by the Hughes, Walter Simpson, Mrs. Purser, Henry Murray, G. D. Summerville, W. E. Smith, Bettie Nathan and Z. E. Clark, it is the sense of this Court that no further action should be taken looking to the securing said right of way, until such time as the owners of the land over which proposed Highway would pass, are willing and sufficiently interested in securing said road to give said right of way at at least place a nominal price upon it."

The Press regrets that the Court was forced to take this action but evidently there was no other course to pursue at present. It is to be hoped that the parties whose lands are touched by the survey will see that instead of being injured, their property would be very much enhanced in value otherwise the matter will be decided by the Court. The road will be built.

The right of way for Project No. 10 leading from Marion to the Caldwell county line to Fredonia and Princeton has been secured and papers signed and forwarded to Frankfort and parties in touch with the situation are very hopeful that arrangements will be made to let contracts in the near future for this road. This will give us a northern outlet. So note it. Let us have faith fall him in good roads. Keep pushing and agitating. We must and will have the good roads.

POPULAR COUPLE WED

On the tenth of this month Mr. H. I. Moore and Miss Ruth Moore were united in marriage at Princeton by Rev. A. D. Luskfield, pastor of the Methodist church of that city.

Miss Ruth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Moore of this city, and possesses many charming graces besides being a beautiful young lady. Mr. Moore is a son of Mrs. Jila Moore of Danwood, and is a splendid young man. He served overseas in the recent World War and was honorably discharged. He represents the Metropolitan Life Insurance of this section and is an untiring worker. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for Louisville, returning Wednesday afternoon to Marion where they will make their home.

The Press extends hearty congratulations.

BEN GREY PLAYERS

The famous Ben Grey Players with a splendid cast will appear on the fourth night of the coming Redpath Chautauque in Shakespeare's immortal comedy "As You Like It." The sympathetic interpretation of the dramatist's subtle humor and brilliant characteristics distinguish this excellent production.

Miss Grace Halsey Mills of New York City, who will appear as Rosalind has for many years interpreted leading roles for the Ben Grey Players. She is thoroughly experienced and rarely gifted in Shakespearean portrayals.

As Rosalind she is graceful, womanly charming, sympathetic, every thing that Shakespeare pictured in his word picture of this delightful heroine. Her exceptional art in characterization by beauty, strength with intelligence and feminine charm.

Miss Mills is only one of an exceptionally strong cast which will present "As You Like It" here.

While Shakespeare's plays make enjoyable reading, they are particularly well written to be acted. This is especially true of his comedies.

This exceptionally strong cast of Ben Grey Players will revive the loves, laughter and emotions of Shakespeare's very human people in "As You Like It."

Mr. Hugh McKee of the Federal section was in Marion Monday. He is one of the oldest citizens in the county. He served in the Confederate Army and is an honorable veteran of the olden time.

Chapel Singers Are a Chautauqua Attraction

At the coming Redpath Chautauque the Chapel Singers will feature representative church music, beautifully sung. Soul-stirring sacred songs, operatic selections, pianos and popular numbers will comprise a program of variety and melody.

The members of the company are experienced church, concert and operatic singers, who have delighted discriminating audiences throughout the country.

Chautauqua Week—Marion—June 18th to 25th.

FROM AN EDITORIAL IN KNOXVILLE, TENN. SENTINEL

Not the least of the public services that are being performed by the Chautauque in the keeping alive of the spoken drama, and especially in raising the level of the Shakespearean and other classic drama, with the result of familiarizing the coming generation with these masterpieces of literature. Organizations like that of the Ben Grey Players that maintain the high standard and best traditions of the old heroic drama should be encouraged because of the educational benefit they bestow that persists after the immediate object of the entertainment for the moment has been served and has passed. That the present day taste for and appreciation of the excellence of the legitimate drama have not been vitiated beyond recall by the picture plays and other innovations in the amusement world is attested by the numbers and avidity with which the people of the city crowded the Redpath Chautauque tent to greet the Ben Grey Players in their one-night Shakespearean revival here.

KATHERINE RIDGEWAY

An interpretative revival by Katherine Ridgeway will be one of the greatest features of the coming Redpath Chautauque Program. Miss Ridgeway's exceptional art has been recognized and enthusiastically appreciated by audiences in every part of the United States.

When building her programs she displays an unerring instinct for good and thoroughly entertaining material. Wit and fancy, power and pathos, spirit, dash and charm all stamp her work with the impress of genius. This season the presentation of two one-act plays will be a feature of her program.

Miss Ridgeway is a southern woman of distinction and charm, whose soul is in her work and marks it with a striking individuality.

"THE MAN FROM HOME"

The sparkling comedy "The Man from Home" will be presented here on the sixth night of the Redpath Chautauque by an exceptionally capable New York cast.

The company for this Chautauque was selected by William Reighley, manager of the Redpath Bureau's New York Production Department. Mr. Reighley's long experience in directing in large numbers of repeated successful plays assures the present excellence of the production.

"The Man from Home" refreshing comedy drama of broad popularity, presented by a thoroughly competent New York cast, is an extraordinary Chautauque offering. There will be laughter, thrills and clean, amusing fun to delight every member of the community.

The Methodists are planning for a big barbecue at 10:00 on the Fourth of July when they are to lay the corner stone of their new church.

SCORES GAMBLING AND DRY LAW VIOLATIONS

PRINCETON, Ky.—In his charge to the grand jury at the opening of the Caldwell Circuit Court here Judge Carl Henderson condemned all forms of gambling and called upon the jurors to return indictments in all cases warranted by the evidence. He said that raffling anything of value, betting on baseball games or a horse race were violations of the law and should be punished. He made a plea for a fair primary election and condemned Sabbath desecration, urging a stricter observance of the law against the doing of unnecessary labor on the Sabbath day.

He scored violators of the prohibition law and urged a thorough investigation of any infractions of the anti-liquor law and said that he would aid the grand jury to the fullest extent in ferreting out alleged violators of the law.

DR. F. L. LOVELAND

"The Peril of Democracy" will be the title of Dr. Frank L. Loveland's challenging address at the Chautauque. His lecture is the culmination of thorough investigations, both in America and in Europe.

All of his utterances Dr. Loveland injects an intense patriotism based upon a sturdy Americanism and a sanity of vision that are stimulating and refreshing.

Dr. Loveland is so fired with his theme and so thoroughly the embodiment of that theme that he stirs the hearts of his hearers to a new pride in the past and new faith in the future of America.

Dr. Loveland's lecture fills a genuine need in these days of baffling social and economic unrest.

JUDGE CARL HENDERSON

State Inspector H. E. James has reported that in the Fourth Judicial District over which Judge Henderson presides that in jury fees alone there is a saving of over $4500 yearly.

Hundreds of dollars are saved on jury fees besides the saving in time to jurors and witnesses who attend court. All this saving is due to the fact there is no time wasted in the trial in court.

When Judge Henderson went into office nearly six years ago some sections of the district were in a state of lawlessness and men's lives were not safe, but today we have peace and good order. Judge Henderson has been untiring in his efforts to stamp out lawlessness of every kind. He has recently announced as a candidate for re-election under the new Non-partisan Judiciary Act which was passed by the last Legislature for the purpose of taking the Judiciary out of politics. Judge Henderson has not been a partisan, he has appointed commissioners to select the jurors from both political parties and has never appointed a commission composed all of one party. His decisions have been fair and he does not seem to have any pets. He stands for law and order.

V. Y. M. BARBECUE

Our big souled Dr. James H. Orme promised the mens class of the Methodist church a barbecue some weeks ago provided they would make an average of 126 present up to the middle of June. The class failed to make the average but Mr. Orme would give the barbecue. The date was set for June 15. It was an event that the class looked forward to with pleasure.

The feast was spread at Orme's Park. An expert had charge of the pigs and lambs and he was certainly onto his job of preparing barbecued meats for they were well cooked and seasoned to be most palatable. Ice cream and coffee and bottled drinks of all kinds were in abundance. The Dr. to give the finishing touch to all who enjoy smoking by passing fine cigars around. A hard rain fell while the feast was at its height but it created no confusion nor did it dampen any man's ardor.

Mr. Orme had selected three men to carve the meats: J. I. Clement, Dick Cruse and Guy Givens and where could he have gotten a more suitable trio than they?

The Marion Orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. The male quartet rendered several selections which were enjoyed by all. C. W. Haynes, teacher of the class introduced the Hon. V. Y. Moore, who organized this class and he delivered an appropriate address. Miss Roberta Moore, in her charming manner entertained the audience with a reading.

Twelve members of the Wesley Brotherhood Class of Madisonville were present. Tulu was well represented at the table.

But the happiest man on the ground and the one who got the most out of the barbecue was Dr. James H. Orme and Marion would be glad if we had more of his type.

NATIONAL MALE QUARTET

The National Male Quartet will be one of the popular musical features at the coming Redpath Chautauque here.

The National Male Quartet is an organization which is notable for an unusually harmonious blending of exceptional solo voices and for rare musical entertainment ability. Charles Cox, basso, is the director of the quartet. His is a voice with a phenomenal range from F above to pedal C below. He is also a capital character comedian and his sketches form an unusually entertaining feature of the program. Mr. Cox was captain in charge of an entertainment division in the A. E. F. during the Great War serving immediately under General Pershing.

Thurlof Lieurance, well known composer of "By the Waters of Minnesota" has written the following appreciation of this great quartet:

"It was my good pleasure to hear the National Quartet at the Rotary Club of Lincoln Neb. I can frankly say that this undoubtedly is one of America's best quartets, if not the best. They sing the best classics written for male voices. Besides being a fine singing organization, composed of fine fellows they are excellent entertainers."

"No one who has ever appeared before the Rotary Club or at the University Convocation ever entertained like Mr. Charles Cox of the National Quartet."

The National Male Quartet will be one of the popular attractions at the Chautauque.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

The Redpath Chautauque opens here tomorrow afternoon. The program this year is to be one of the best we have had. All indications point toward a record breaking attendance. Following are members of the staff who will have charge of the tent in this city:

Superintendent; John S. Toms Junior Supt.; Miss Hendrickson Prop man; Hays Owen Cashier; R. T. Elsey Gate; Wm. Taylor Usher; R. C. McCormick

REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA OPENS HERE TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the big Redpath Seven Day Chautauque will open here. It will be held in the tent auditorium erected east of the jail adjoining jockey lot. Reports from the local committee in charge indicate that the Chautauque will be a tremendous success.

The Redpath management has prepared a program which is replete with up to the minute attractions. Among the features are the rollicking comedy, "The Man from Home" and a notable production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It" by the famous Ben Grey Players.

Tomorrow afternoon the attraction will be the Oceanic Concert Company a splendid musical entertainment feature and at night after a short concert by this company, Montaville Flowers eminent publicist will give his timely lecture "America Looking Ahead."

"THE MAN FROM HOME"

"The Man from Home" well-known comedy success will be presented here by a New York cast on the sixth night of the coming Redpath Chautauque.

The play is rich with amusing and sometimes almost tragic situations resulting from the clash between midwestern American ideals and old-world class distinctions. The characters are drawn from real life. Their quaintness, their absurdities and loveableness are all marked by the sure craftsmanship of those popular playwrights, Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. There was a collaboration that resulted in clever rippling and sure-fire comedy.

The plot centers around the adventures of Daniel Voorhees Pike, an eccentric young lawyer of Mokeno Ind. Pike is first, last and always an American. He is a two-fisted, fearless fighter in the face of well nigh insurmountable difficulties. He is amusing and sometimes stubborn, but he is always delightfully American. He stands out prominently and often pugnaously in strong contrast to a group of intriguing, unscrupulous and grasping foreigners. His efforts to save his ward, a romantic title hunting girl, from the machinations of a conspiring family of the "fine flower" of Europe furnish material for most thrilling situations. While the entire action of the play takes place in a picturesque section of southern Italy, it is dominated by Pike and a refreshing American atmosphere.

PICNIC AT HARRISON

On last Tuesday Miss Ethel Hard took the juvenile classes of the First Baptist church, of which she is the superintendent on a picnic to the picnic grounds near Harrison Bridge.

About seventy of the youngsters, accompanied by Bro. Meroney and Sam Carnahan, superintendent of the Sunday School, and other adults made the trip. All report a gala day and are anxious to go again.

BIRTHDAY

On last Sunday Mrs. C. C. Long spent her seventieth birthday. Her nice country home is in the Chapel Hill section noted for its good citizenship. Her children and grandchildren to the number of 41 did not forget the day. They arranged to give mother and grandmother a surprise. The social feature was all that could be expected and the dinner brought in by the relatives was superb. Bob Ench was there and he pronounced it great and Bob knows.

MAHAN-CLARK

Miss Mary Mahan and Mr. J. D. Clark were united in marriage Sunday June 13th. Rev. W. P. Meroney officiating. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Clark left for Spring Lick Ky., where Mr. Clark is employed by the F. C. Railroad Company.

PICNIC

On last Wednesday morning Prof. Jagers took his class out to Oak Grove school house three miles west of town and there they spread their breakfast consisting of bacon, coffee bread, pickles etc. They all reported a delightful time.
